Chamber members support UR holiday events effort for troop gift boxes

Many Eagle Point/Upper Rogue Chamber of Commerce members are among those who have donated money and/or product to a fund raising effort for the troops in Kandahar, Afghanistan.

The fund raising effort was first publicized in the Upper Rogue Independent on Nov. 10. From there it took on a life as 14-year-old Bryce Thornton, a member of Eagle Point Boy Scout Troop 48 and a student at Eagle Point Middle School, got on radio and TV and spread the word.

As of Nov. 30, some $15,000 has been raised in cash and/or product to be sent overseas. A rather major packing party took place on Dec. 1 and 2 as all the items had to be boxed with a custom forms filled out for each box.

Bryce is the son of Darrin and Claire (Rademacher) Thornton and the nephew of Chamber member, Hank Rademacher.

Greeters a success

A big thank you to the Chamber members who participated in the Greeter bag distribution on Nov. 14. There were 16 participants, the most we've ever had. Because we now have a presence throughout the Upper Rogue, part of the distribution went to Shady Cove and part to Eagle Point.

The Boy Scouts and the Skills USA class at Eagle Point High School distributed the bags. Each group is given $500 for their effort. The remainder of the money goes to the Chamber. Distribution is only done when it can be profitable for the Chamber.

For information on this call Kathy Sell at 826-7700. She would like to see distribution on a quarterly basis, but it takes a minimum of 10 participants and preferably more.
